100 FARMERS

Petition Fiscal Court to Extend Pike from Allen's Branch to Cumberland River.

One hundred of the leading farmers of the Highash neighborhood, especially those residing in proximity to the Somerset and Monticello road, petitioned the Fiscal Court this week to extend the pike from Allen's branch to Cumberland river, a distance of about three miles or more.

There remains but a few miles in the northern section of the county, of dirt road, which should be piked at once as well as the three miles leading from Allen's branch to the river. The county spends so much each year on road building and the proposition above seems to be undoubtedly the best at present and one that would mean more just now to the county than any other in road building.

Judge James Denton, O. E. Vaughan, and W. O. Newell spoke in favor of the project and the Court will most likely pass favorably on it.

Points Regarding The Census.

The census begins April 15 and must be completed in two weeks in cities and in thirty days in all other areas.

The enumerators will wear a badge inscribed "United States Census, 1910."

The law requires every adult person to furnish the prescribed information, but also provides that it shall be treated confidentially, so that (no injury can be done to any person from answering the questions.

The President has issued a proclamation, calling on all citizens to co-operate with the Census and assuring them that it has nothing to do with taxation, army or jury service, compulsory school attendance, regulation of immigration, or enforcement of any law, and that no one can be injured by answering the inquiries.

It is of the utmost importance that the census of population and agriculture in this state be complete and correct.

Therefore every person should promptly, accurately, and completely answer the Census questions asked by the enumerators.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM.

A Great Asset in Business as Well as in Society.

There have been great advances at the bar whose charming manner, the presence in court of some of the world's famous lawyers would no longer be the jury and the judge as to danger and seriousness actually direct justice, as the Sweet Maries in Justice.

There is always a premium upon a charming presence. Every business man likes to be surrounded by people of pleasing personality and winning manners. They are regarded as splendid assets.

What is it that often enables one person to walk right into a position and achieve without difficulty that which another, with perhaps greater ability, struggles vainly to accomplish? Everywhere a magnetic personality is desired and new men are better impressions than the old. Education or the highest attainments. An attractive personality, even without great talent, often advances one when great talent and special training will not.

Young men and young women are being educated and trained by others these because of qualities and characteristics which permit them to get better thought much about a fine manner, courtesy, cheerfulness and kindly, obliging, helpful dispositions.

ABSURD COSTUMES.

Outcome of a Curious Wager Made in England in 1891.

A wager was made in 1891 in the castle yard, York, England, between Thomas Hodgson and Samuel Whitehead as to which should succeed in assuming the most singular character. Umpires were selected whose duty it was to decide upon the comparative absurdity of the costumes in which the two men were to appear. On the appointed day the contest began, and the umpire decorated with tassels of various colors, his coat and vest being entirely covered with them. Besides these he had a row of green pieces down his back, a netted piece of gold around his head and a placard on his back bearing the legend, "John Bull."

Whitehead came on the scene dressed like a woman on one side and half of his face painted and a silk stocking and slipper on one foot and leg. The other half of his face was blackened so as to resemble a negro. On the corresponding side of his body he wore a grizzly bear's tail, his right leg that side being laced in with a pair of leather breeches and a boot with a spur. He wore a wig of dry straw braided down the back and tied with yellow, red and orange colored ribbons.

One would naturally fancy that he presented the most singular and ludicrous appearance, but the umpires would have thought differently, they awarded the stakes, some 131 to Hodgson—London Tattler.

For The Farmer

NOTES GATHERED FROM ALL SOURCES TO INTEREST THE FARMER

It is the intention of the TIMES to discuss in this space the subjects that are of the most interest to the farmer. We invite your correspondence and any question that you may wish to ask relative to farming will be gladly answered in this column. Don't be backward about writing us. It is to your interest as well as ours to make this column a success. Address THE SOMERSET FARM DEPARTMENT.

Take one of the pups for a pig.

Beware of planting sprouted potato seed.

It is scabby business to plant scabby potatoes.

Do not rush the teams too hard; let them have time to get their shoulders hardened to the work.

Few farmers harrow quite enough. Harrow, harrow, harrow.

Keep manure near the surface; plow it deep and you will lose some of it.

Don't plow the ground too wet; get it just right and then rush things.

Don't forget to make two sowings of clover, and be sure to use one-half alkali.

If there is no place in the shed for the grindstone, get a box at the store that will cover it, thus keeping it covered from the weather.

Everybody is impatient to begin farm work, but it is wise to temper impatience with good judgment and wait until all conditions are right.

When you get the annual house-cleaning fever, don't cut down or dig up the nice little trees. Let everyone stand that isn't in the way. The trees will come in handy twenty years hence.

When you want to do a good job of hoeing or weed cutting this spring, put an edge on the hoe. The tool work much better and the operator as well.

Just as nearly as you can, grow all the stuff you will need ten many years ago for his father to spread lime in his corn that it would dry out the grain. He says he has seen his father since an inch of stacked lime on top of a bin of wet oats and that in a short time the lime was gone and the oats would come out dry and bright. The conclusion does not appear to be obvious, but if lime will dry damp corn or small grain it will be the proper thing to use some of it when in doubt of its keeping. This will be of very little trouble and there could be no loss even if there could be no benefit.

Give the boy a heifer calf from one of the best cows in the herd. Many a father will be glad of his investment in later years. The most successful dairymen are those who have grown up with the herd they own. In this way they come to know every individual, not only by name, but by her performance at the pail. It is a splendid thing to keep the boys interested in the business.

How natural it is when one man makes a pretty good thing of any one crop for everybody to rush in and try to do just as he has done! The best way, though, is to take it slow. If you do venture into a new crop, do it conservatively.

The middle course always best in all such things.

At the public combination sale of heretofore in Shelby county last week 51 sold at prices ranging from $79.25 to $285 per head. The general average was $112.74. The finest heifer, the great young bull, sold for $285.—Danville Advertiser.

TERRIBLE CROUP
My little boy, who is four years old, has suffered a lot with croup. On several occasions we thought he was gone. After trying all the old time remedies and most of the new, I came home one night at midnight and my wife said, "The boy had the croup again—suppose you get a bottle of Hlye's." "Here junk," I said, but we will circulate our names as they all get worse. I fastened to all night dry more, brought it home. In five minutes he was breathing easier. In fifteen minutes he was sound asleep. It broke the croup so quickly it scared us.

In Memoriam
M. D. P. HYPERMAN
I think of the sheaves of the Golden grain.
The reaper gathered when several life's chain,
I think of the mother, who wept for her children,
I dwell on the thought that her life was worth living.
I think of the deeds by kindness done,
I think of the smiles always brought,
I think of sweet words so kindly spoken
in time of need when sad hearts are broken.
Joy lives in triumph, forest in love,
A spirit inhabiting the mountains above.
When the Savior placed on her beautiful brow her bright jeweled crown so fair, the white-winged angels must have gathered around
To catch her sweet triumph to echo "well done."
Oh, beloved memories such treasures to hold
Overlooking with love that the Savior's handfalls
Of her when on earth gave so sweet on that bright shining when we shall meet.
Oh, why speak of death, there is no death.
'Tis but glorified souls going home to be blest.
Leaving sorrow and strife to anchor above
In that beautiful city where all is love.
Her Husband,
D. P. HYPERMAN.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

ARE FIRE PROOF
THEY will not burn. Will not split or curl like wood shingles. Will not crack and rot like slate. Will not rip at the seams like plain tin. Neither will they rattle during high wind storms. They never need repairs and last as long as the building. And last of all, they make the handsome roof and are not expensive.

HOW TO COLLECT YOUR NOTES AND ACCOUNTS

How can I collect what is owing me? This is the all important question with every merchant, wholesale firm, business and professional man, farmer, and, in fact, every one to-day. Never has the question been so prominent in the business world as it is to-day. The loss of a few accounts may cut up your profits in business; the failure to collect a note makes you that much poorer; not being able, or in a position, to give the proper attention, knowledge or experience to the adjustment or examination into some claim in which you have an interest may cause you the loss of many dollars. Our practice and our business is to help you in these matters. Whether it is a Note or Account you are not able to collect; or whether it is some claim in which you have an interest which needs looking into carefully, we are prepared to do it, and do it promptly. This is our business; we make it a study; we have the facilities and we have the experience, and the fact that we have collected many dollars which were given up as lost, is one of our best arguments in favor of what we can do. Our terms are reasonable, and We Make No Charges Unless We Collect; We Make Collections Anywhere in the United States. We recently collected an account for a firm in the adjoining county against a man in California. If you have a claim which needs looking after, or a note or account which you want collected, no matter how large or how small, or where the parties live, send it to us. We solicit your business.
